

Some Basic Presentation Tips

Control your emotions, know your topic, control your presentation, get rid of the butterflies . . . the steps below can help with all the above.

Things to Remember:

1. Know your material.
 - a. Pick your topic, know it, have all the facts you will need.
 - b. Determine content delivered to your audience and their level of knowledge.
Leave some info for Q&A or a second round of presentations, if needed.
 - c. Use Humor, and stories to connect your audience to the topic and for you to connect with the audience.
2. Know your audience
 - a. Arrive early, get to know them
 - b. Ask about how they feel about the topic, find out what they know
 - c. Make some friends, it's always easier to talk to friends than strangers
3. Know the room.
 - a. Walk the room/stage/theater you'll present in
 - i. Get used to the technology - Check Lights, Sound, AV, set houselights to a level you want.
 - b. Head off any potential problems before you are onstage in front of the audience.
4. Rehearse, Rehearse, Rehearse
 - a. BEFORE you arrive onsite
 - b. Use onsite time to connect with the audience
 - c. Write your script fully, and read it over and over again.
 - d. Know how long it will take to deliver
 - e. You have the knowledge, once you know the presentation, you can relax and enjoy
5. Concentrate on the message
 - a. You know your topic and tell the audience why it's important to them.
 - b. Take a breath when you walk out onstage and look for some people you know
 - c. Remember the "First 60 Seconds"
 - d. Don't get hung up on media,
 - i. Media is only support it is NOT the presentation
6. The audience wants you to succeed, no one is there to see you fail. KNOW THAT
